

FocalpointNet™

Your wish has been granted. FocalpointNet™ connects you directly to Apollo® via the Internet. Now new business-building opportunities are virtually unlimited.

Compete better

Today, no matter what size your agency is, you can be ready to compete in tomorrow's rapidly changing world. FocalpointNet™ from Galileo is software that gives you totally new options.

With FocalpointNet, you have the freedom to conduct your business from anywhere.

FocalpointNet is precisely what you wished for. It's easy to use, it's as portable as a laptop, and it may provide a lower-cost alternative. Plus, it's backed by our system of local support worldwide.

Work better

FocalpointNet can be your solution to lowering costs while making your agency increasingly competitive. Because it's based on Focalpoint®, there is no training required for existing employees, and its portability lets you retain employees who need the flexibility to work from home. With FocalpointNet and an Internet Service Provider (ISP) account, you have an incredible number of opportunities. You can create a low-overhead virtual agency. If your agency has less than five workstations, FocalpointNet may provide lower connection costs than a dedicated line.*

Think of FocalpointNet as a great tool on the road while visiting clients and needing Apollo access. Or, you can consider FocalpointNet as part of your contingency plans to deal with an emergency situation. With FocalpointNet, you have the tools that will change the way you do business forever.

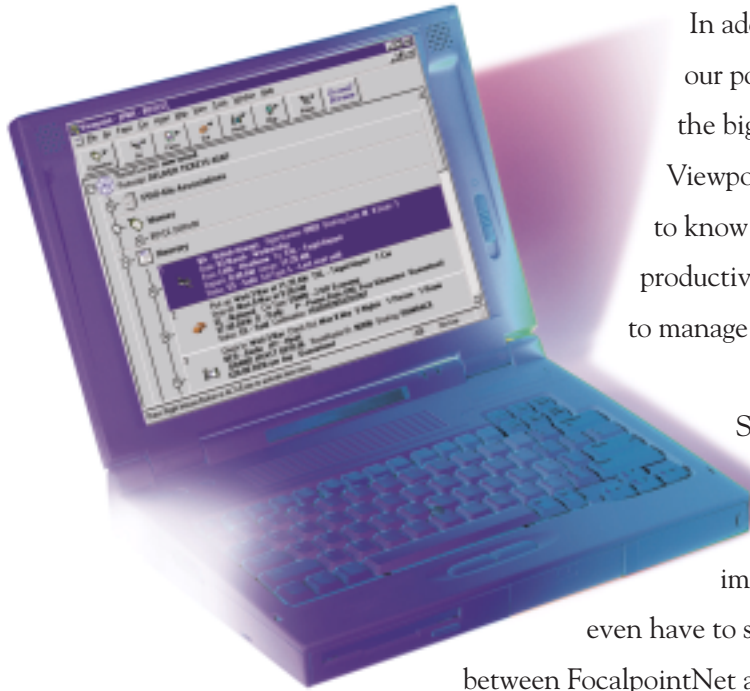

Manage your business better

Since FocalpointNet is based on Focalpoint, you can continue to use all the productivity-enhancing Focalpoint features you're used to. That means every feature of Focalpoint Relay™, and Scriptwriter Plus™, including all ticketing, itinerary/invoice printing, and back office interface capabilities you depend on.

*Internet Service Provider and telecommunication costs vary by region. Compare ISP and telecommunications rates before choosing a provider. Check with your Galileo representative for further details before selecting an ISP.

In addition, you'll be able to access the power of Viewpoint™, our powerful and comprehensive sales management solution—the biggest advance in travel distribution technology ever.

Viewpoint lets you sell travel simply and easily without having to know traditional commands—and provides other easy-to-use productivity-enhancing features like Mapping—so you'll be able to manage your business even more efficiently.

Since FocalpointNet—along with your ISP—gives you access to the World Wide Web, you can expand your service by integrating the Web with the power and immense amounts of information from Apollo®. You don't even have to switch applications—you can easily toggle back and forth between FocalpointNet and the Web.

Be secure

FocalpointNet answers concerns about data security over the Internet with state-of-the-art Virtual Private Network data encryption technology that makes sensitive data and reservation information absolutely inaccessible to anyone without authorization. This high level of security protects all transactions, just as it does over Galileo's dedicated connections. With all the questions concerning the integrity of sensitive data over the Internet, this high level of security is very reassuring.

Get connected today

Now's the time to get online and start taking advantage of the business-building opportunities that FocalpointNet offers. Think in new ways. Create your own future. It's all possible with FocalpointNet. All you need is a Pentium class PC with a minimum 32 MB RAM and 28.8 KBPS modem connection—plus an Internet Service Provider—and you'll be wired to Apollo in no time.
